

Participants Needed: Research Survey

ASSESSING LEVELS OF DEMENTIA AND ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE: A RESEARCH SURVEY STUDY OF LEGAL, MEDICAL, AND OTHER PROFESSIONALS

TOPIC:

Professionals' Interpretations of Determinations of Levels of Dementia and Implications

WHO:

I am looking for legal, medical and other professionals trained and untrained in the assessment of levels of dementia and Alzheimer's disease, including Probate Court judges, magistrates, attorneys, physicians, psychologists, psychiatrists, counselors, nurses, social workers, and other individuals that directly or indirectly contribute to guardianship or conservatorship decisions

WHY:

The purposes of the research study are to assist professionals toward improved collaborative efforts, and to provide directions for education and training programs

RISKS:

It is unlikely that participants will experience significant risk by participating in this study

BENEFITS:

Participation in the study may benefit others through focus on maintaining the civil rights, enhancing the quality of life, and preserving the ownership of the property, possessions, and finances of individuals challenged at every level of cognitive decline.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

The study is offered through SurveyMonkey, an internet survey program. You will be asked to complete five different questionnaires that include multiple choice questions and the opportunity for fill-in responses. Each of the questionnaires takes approximately 10 minutes to complete.

The online study is currently active through SurveyMonkey and can be accessed at:
